Seminar Details

This seminar is intended for anyone who qualifies for access to information under ADA Section 508 and all federal government officials who provide accessible information.

Adobe Systems, Incorporated is sponsoring this seminar as part of its commitment to assisting the Federal Government in meeting the special Federal Information Processing resource accommodation needs of individuals with disabilities.

Adobe also wants to understand and meet the needs of government personnel who each day use an Adobe product to produce content for both print and the web.

The presentations will focus on producing accessible content in the short term with glimpses of how the tools themselves can be made more accessible in the future.

Products and Technologies to be Covered Include:

- PDF as an Access Friendly Format
- Adobe Acrobat and Accessible Forms
- Adobe GoLive
- Adobe FrameMaker
- Accessibility and the Impact of Scaleable Vector Graphic (SVG) Technology

Special Guest

Mr. Robert Neff,
Chief of Web Operations
The United States Mint

Mr. Neff will address the practical implications of implementing accessibility guidelines for information technology
